“Recognizing my identity”

Allowing someone the time to unfold.

---

Many caregivers tend to want to solve things themselves and not refer to someone who is more knowledgeable.

---

That accessibility is crucial.

---

Clients may sometimes say things are going well, but internally, that may not be the case.

---

In reality, we have all given signals to people, but no one has picked up on them.

---

Thanks for your attention
